PLAN NOW FOR CHRISTMAS

At the risk of rushing the season, we suggest that the merchants of Newmarket would do well to start planning their Christmas closing hours. Last year, as in the years before, there was the usual last-minute dispute and hasty decision over what hours to keep over the holiday. There is no reason to believe it will be otherwise this year unless there is some sign of action within the next few weeks.

Why matters so closely connected with the efficient operation of a business are dealt with in such an indecisive manner must continue to remain a mystery, except, perhaps, to the disgruntled customer who goes off to Main St. only to find his shopping centre closed without previous announcement. His conclusion is that his dealer just doesn't give a hoot about him, and so he takes his patronage across the street.

There must be unanimity among the merchants, and well-in-advance notices of their intentions if they are to keep the goodwill of the public, which after all, keeps them in business.

There is also the Christmas market and the Christmas parade to be considered. Last year the Christmas parade showed faint signs of revival. Certainly, there was nothing faint about the reception Santa Claus received on his trip down Main St. Public interest in last year's parade, as hastily planned as it was, should make obvious the value in goodwill such an enterprise has for the Main St. merchants when properly conducted.

The value of a Christmas market is more difficult to assess but it is certain that as it is now operated, Newmarket would be a great deal better off to do without it. If a Christmas market has any value, let it be made into the kind of occasion which will best serve the public and its sponsors. As it is run now, it is nothing but a poor advertisement for the town.

The merchants of Newmarket are the one group in Newmarket which has the most to gain from an accepted schedule of closing hours, a revived Christmas parade, and a decision, one way or the other, on the Christmas market.

Why wait until the last moment before taking any action, forfeiting in the meantime a large measure of the goodwill without which, no business can function?

NO ONE GAINS IN MEAT STRIKE

With the meat-packing strike still dragging on as we write on the weekend, Canadians have increasing cause to wonder how first, a purely private dispute, and secondly, an illegal strike, can continue to deprive them of part of their basic food ration.

True enough, Newmarket and district have not been as hard hit as the larger centres. An easing of the slaughtering restrictions has made available new sources of supply from which the district has been able to derive enough meat to last it out with little discomfort. The fact remains, however, that an illegal strike arising from disagreement within one industry is being fought out with so little regard for the public that the disputants might as well be on Mars.

The provincial government has refused to appoint a conciliator until the workmen return to their jobs. The minister for labor for Ontario puts his version of the situation this way:

"Having been granted the assured legal right to organize; to bargain collectively and to obtain certification under provincial laws, organized labor must now understand that they cannot use these laws up to the point which suits them and then, with utter disregard for public welfare, flagrantly flout other provisions of the same laws by refusing to follow the procedure legally prescribed."

The procedure as written into the provincial law is for the men to stay on the job for at least 14 days after a conciliation board has reported to the minister. The strikers are liable for severe financial penalties. So far, apart from refusing to appoint a conciliator until the men have returned to work, the government has made no move to enforce the law. If the law is wrong as government failure to enforce it suggests, it would be best to revise it. In the meantime, it should be obeyed.

We know nothing of the causes of the dispute. Apart from its illegality and the failure of the government to enforce the law, our point is this: it is a sorry commentary on the sense of responsibility of the participants to the public which is dependent upon its services, and the farmers dependent upon its purchases. The companies are losing thousands of dollars daily on overhead. The men are without their weekly income. Everyone is losing because of the failure of the disputants to solve their problems in a sensible manner.

BANK NATIONALIZATION WITHOUT MERIT

The C.C.F. has been currently re-affirming its intentions to nationalize the banking system. There is no merit in the proposal. The people of Canada already exercise a large measure of control over the banking system by restrictive legislation establishing standards of safe banking. The proposal loses all the more because of the evils against which the C.C.F. rails.

In addition to increasing government legislation designed to protect the public, there is the automatic review of all bank charters and banking legislation every ten years. There is also the Bank of Canada established as a government agency in 1935, through which the people of Canada exercise a decision in interest rates, investments, reserves and the issue of currency.

Under the circumstances, it is difficult to see just what could be gained by the nationalization of the banking system. At the same time, the danger of such a proposal is most obvious. It is the same danger that is inherent in most C.C.F. proposals, the danger of unrestricted authority of the government to the subordination of the individual citizen.

Without economic freedom, there can be no social freedom. Where a government controls the national economy, it is also in a position to control all individual action. In Russia, the loss of individual freedom followed the assumption of control over the national economy by the government, with the necessary corollary of forced labor camps and "liquidation" of those whose opinions differed.

Specifically, a nationalized banking system would enable the government to determine in its entirety the policy to be followed by the banks. In establishing that national monopoly, the government would also become the only agency through which banking could be done. With that tremendous authority, it would be able to impose whatever conditions it wished in return for its services. There might easily, rather, inevitably, come the day when conformity to the government's policies would become the condition of a loan.

Nothing but the best of intentions might motivate the nationalization of the banking system. Nothing but the best of intentions might govern its administration at first. But human nature being what it is, once the precedent was established, it would provide the means for the corrupt and the power-mad to exercise unchecked authority to their own ends.

The form of government in democracies was so constituted that it would protect the people from unchecked authority. Deprive the people of their economic independence and the way is opened to nullify democratic government.

FIRE LOSSES

CONTINUE TO MOUNT

Canadians are a prodigal people. In the midst of plenty, they have become careless of their possessions. Nothing better exemplifies this irresponsibility than the losses suffered in Canada by fire during 1946. Fire destroyed property in Canada last year for a total of nearly $50 million, or about 55 percent more than five short years ago.

It would be bad enough if the loss was counted in property alone. Yet it is a stark fact that during the 12 months of 1946, 408 lives were lost: 408 Canadians of all walks of life, of all ages, of all conditions, died from fire.

Yet year by year, Canadians continue along the path of destruction, seemingly without concern for the consequences. Last year, for example, of the 55,400 fires in the dominion, 41,005, or nearly 80 percent, were in residential properties.

Carelessness or wanton disregard for sensible precautions was responsible for the loss by fire of residential properties equivalent to what is found in a city of about 300,000 people. And this at a time when there is a serious shortage of housing accommodation for all classes of people.

Time and money is spent preaching the gospel of fire prevention and demonstrating how carelessness can destroy human lives and property. Insurance companies maintain rigid inspection services which undoubtedly prevent many fires. They also impress on the public the direct relation of insurance rates to fire losses. Yet fire loss continues to mount at an alarming rate; 1946 losses were 12 percent higher than in 1945.

Fire fighting services, insurance companies, safety organizations can only do so much. The complete remedy remains in our hands and it is effective only if we use it constantly and vigilantly. That remedy is to pay more attention to the simple rules established for our own protection.

Day by day, we must learn to exercise more care. We must recognize this destructive force for what it means in terms of loss of life and property. We must stop playing with fire to prevent fire if we want to eliminate this national disgrace from the record books. A little more common sense and a great deal less prodigality is the only way in which we can succeed.

AIR GUN FOR MINORS ILLEGAL

There is always someone who will give the young son of the apartment-dwelling Jones's a tin drum for his birthday. Outside of a few punctured eardrums and a battle with the family downstairs, little harm is done. But when someone gives Junior an air gun while he is still a minor, he is risking a brush with the law.

With an eye to the increasing number of young hunters in Newmarket, we note that there is a section in the Criminal Code which makes it an offence to give a minor an air gun. That point was publicized a few days ago in Oakville when an adult was given a suspended sentence for giving his young brother an air gun for Christmas.

An air gun can be a dangerous weapon in the hands of a child. It only takes one pellet to knock out an eye. And what can happen to the windows of a vacant house need not be mentioned. The section of the Criminal Code dealing with air guns is a point of law worth remembering.

THIS IS IMMUNIZATION WEEK IN ONTARIO

It is a time of remembering the value that modern health methods offer you and your family not only in the cure but in the prevention through immunization of the contagious diseases that have taken so many lives. Newmarket, through its public health services, provides at regular intervals immunization clinics for young children. Make use of them in keeping your children healthy.

Around Town

About the men and women you meet around town almost everyday.

Frank Harold Robinson, 71, has probably had more experience in the flour milling industry than anyone else in Newmarket. He started as an apprentice in a flour mill when he was 15 years of age and he was in the business continually until 11 years ago.

Frank was born in Penthrith, Cumberland, Eng., the eldest of eight children. When he was eight years old, his family undertook the three-week voyage to Canada and located in Norval, near Brampton. "At that time, there was a woollen mill and a 500-barrel flour mill there and that was all," Frank says. "They were both run by water power from the Credit River."

Frank completed public school before starting at the flour mill "where I served for three years as apprentice, working 15 hours a day for $12 a month. After completing my apprenticeship I accepted a position as night miller in a farmers' company mill near Hagersville, after which I travelled around considerably to gain experience. I never spent more than a year in one place."

"At the age of 21 Frank became head miller in the Wilkinson flour mill near Barrie. "I met Jane Ottoway and married her two years later. Then I went north to Thessalon where I started the first flour mill in Algoma county," Frank says.

In the years following, he worked at Sam Lukes' flour mill at Bradford, then at Orillia and later at Arnprior where he started a 200-barrel mill for the McLaughlin Bros. He became manager of the mill there but after three years decided to go into business for himself. He bought a mill at Glenville and operated it for nine years before it burned down in 1916. After selling the property there he bought another mill at Cookstown, which he also operated for nine years and then sold.

Frank then bought the old

Denne flour mill here and carried on a grain and coal business for ten years. The building was bought by W. H. Eves in 1936 and now houses a wurllitzer plant. Since 1936 Frank has continued to operate a coal business only.

Frank served on the King twp. council for four years, on the Cookstown council for "nine or ten years" and on the Newmarket town council for "ten or 12 years". He also served a term on the Glenville school board. He has three daughters and a son who is at present head salesman for Centennial flour mills in California. The mill makes 30,000 barrels of flour a day.

Frank used to be an active bowler and curler and in his younger days played baseball, lacrosse and football, sang in several choirs and took an active part in community singing. "I have always been very fond of horses and used to buy and sell them in the 'horse' days. I also used to keep thoroughbred dogs and Newfoundlanders were my special hobby," he says.

THE COMMON ROUND

By Isabel Inglis Colville

SMALL THINGS

Do you like fairy tales? There seems to be quite a diversity of opinion about them. I have even, to my sorrow, heard a few people say that they fill children's heads with impossible dreams and the awakening was something in the nature of a catastrophe.

Then there are those who maintain that it is children's right to have a lovely world where beauty reigns supreme and right always conquers no matter what powers of evil be arrayed against it. For myself, I had an Irish father and he had all an Irishman's love of "the little people". So he loved fairy tales. On the other hand, my mother came of Scotch parentage and while she would read or recite Mother Goose by the hour, she balked at fairy tales and left this branch of literature to a young aunt who regaled me with them unstintingly, to my intense delight.

Well, I've never outgrown my love for fairy tales. I can read them now with as much delight as I heard them in the long distant past.

So you can see how much I enjoyed Walt Disney's Song of the South.

Fairy Tale Brought To Life

When I was a child we had to imagine the wonderful setting and events in a fairy tale; here was one brought to life. The sadness of Cinderella and Snow White had their counterpart in the little lad of this modern tale. He was lonely and misunderstood in the midst of beauty and wealth but Uncle Remus and the grandmother were the modern counterparts of the old fairy godmother and so the lovely things of life conquered the ugly and all was well with the small hero. The beauty of the setting in the old south, the impossibly lovely birds and beasts all were a real refreshment after much of what children see in the present age. I feel that a child who did not see Song of the South was deprived of something very lovely and definitely worthwhile.

With Our Quilts

Today I was talking on the telephone—perhaps I should say trying to talk—when infantile shrieks punctuated by mature roars became so clamorous that I dropped the receiver and fled to investigate. At the foot of the stairs stood Beauty, mother of the five, telling the world in no uncertain terms that she needed help, and quick!

Looking beyond her I saw a small cream colored ball of fluff stranded about midway up the flight; a few steps farther on was another and I found the other three clustered in a disconsolate heap at the head of the stairs. Forsaken by mamma and brothers, they voiced their woe and let the household learn that a kitten's lot is not a happy one. Making them into a small bundle, I took them downstairs and said to Beauty "They're your responsibility—see to them", and as plainly as one can speak, Beauty said to me "Excuse me, lady, but I've done my share. Now you give them a dish of something". Being cornered, so to speak, I did just that, only to have the kittens turn up their small noses at the food and with tails held at a defiant angle, walk off, yelling for mamma!

Now, Beauty is distraught. She wants to sit before the fire between our chairs in the evening but her better self tells her to stay with her children.

Consequently, she vibrates between living and dining-rooms like a pendulum while the kittens lose each other and weep bitterly or pile themselves in a little heap and sleep peacefully. Birds and Elderberries

There are a great many elderberries along our fence rows and these days they are community reunions, as the birds settle on and near them to feast royally and prepare for their trip down the flyways.

This year we have had so many more bird visitors—black and white warblers and yellow breasted warblers and—oh, more of this anon.

50 YEARS AGO

From The Era and Express files, Friday, Oct. 8, 1897

Seven or eight balloonists have been killed this fall but the supply of fools is equal to the demand. At last we are to have a good covered skating rink in Newmarket. That splendid vacant lot on Main St. just north of Coyle's blacksmith shop has been purchased at a reasonable figure.

Present at the regular meeting of the town council were reeve deputy, councillors Cody, Roadhouse, Somerville, Perrin and Stickwood.

Mr. T. H. Lloyd, barrister, has commenced the erection of a new brick residence on Queen St. on the lot adjoining the residence of Alderman Roadhouse on the east side.

On the Newmarket markets this week, butter sold at 15 cents a pound and eggs were 15 cents a dozen. Potatoes sold at 50 cents a bag. Chickens were 50 cents a pair.

Mr. Norman Rogers left on Monday to take another medical course at Toronto University. He succeeded in passing his first year exam.

On Tuesday afternoon and evening a gathering of the sons and daughters of the late Seth and Annie Armitage took place at the residence of Mrs. Jane Taylor, Prospect Ave. The parents settled on Yonge St. (lot 92, Whitechurch), in 1804 and the farm is now owned by Mr. I. P. Armitage. This is a remarkable family for longevity. All the members of the original family were in Newmarket on Tuesday and a very nice group was made by Mr. Peppini, the artist. There is another thing we might mention, the entire family have always been total abstainers and only one person uses tobacco in any form.

Under immediate direction of the postmaster-general, the federal government has decided to issue a new postage stamp. The design has been approved by the head of the department. It represents a portrait of Her Majesty as she appeared at the Coronation of 1900.

LIBRARY CORNER

By CAROLINE E. ION

A very important and significant book available at the Newmarket public library is Glass House of Prejudice by Dorothy W. Baruch, published by William Morrow and Company, New York, 1946.

This book deals with the causes and effects of prejudice as well as with its cures. With race prejudice, hatred and distrust everywhere evident in the world today, it is time for thinking people to examine themselves and to honestly evaluate their own beliefs on this subject. Dorothy Baruch's forceful approach and her complete analysis of the manifestations of prejudice to minority groups makes this widely discussed book most provocative reading. The author is a practicing psychologist.

Although the incidents in this book are taken from true happenings in the United States they could have been written of Canada to a certain degree.

The author points out that the darkest shadow of prejudice is cast over the white race; that many citizens by their passivity encourage prejudice and that until all are honestly free from the threat of persecution and hate it will be impossible to create either a land of justice or a world of peace.

This book would form an excellent basis for a discussion group with the questions in the chapter Test Your Own Reactions, being most helpful in any forum.

183 Million Dollars on Hay Carts

The Canadian Hay crop—Clover and Timothy—was worth $183,000,000 during the best year yet recorded. This included the comparatively new Dolland Red Clover, late-maturing, rust-resistant Drummond Timothy, and Altaswede Clover in northern areas—all of which have been developed by agricultural colleges or experimental farms.

Many progressive farmers regularly take their most troublesome problems to their nearest agricultural college or experimental farm where, for the asking, they can get practical advice that saves work and puts money in their pockets through improved crops. You can do the same.

ELECTRICITY

Maintains Employment...
Keeps Pay Envelopes Full

PLEASE DON'T WASTE IT!

Electric power is vital to Industry, and Ontario is experiencing an era of high production, unparalleled in its history. Contrary to expectations, the demand for electric power did not drop sharply following the war. More electric power is actually being used today for production of peacetime goods than was required at any time to forge weapons for Victory. This demand is constantly increasing and, during the next six months, Hydro facilities will be strained to the utmost.

New Hydro developments, planned to keep pace with Ontario's growth, were halted during the war years. They have since been hampered by shortages of men, materials and equipment. However many new stations to deliver electric power are being rushed to completion. Some are already in operation. But the need for saving electric power in your own home, during the Fall and Winter months, is urgent if the needs of Industry and Agriculture are to be fully served and employment maintained at peak levels.

Won't you please play your part? Remember—even a little bit of electricity, conserved by hundreds of thousands, helps a lot. It's your Hydro. Use it wisely so that Hydro facilities can more adequately meet the demands of all consumers.

Here are a few ways you can

Save

ELECTRICITY

Turn off all unnecessary lights. Don't forget about burning lights in empty rooms, halls, basements, attic, porch and garage. Eliminate all colored bulbs.

Keep lamps, reflectors and shades clean. Dusty fixtures waste as much as 25% of your light.

When kettle sings, turn off switch. Stored heat will bring it to a full boil. Keep kettle free from lime.

When cooking use "High" heat for as little time as possible. Then turn to "Low" and use stored heat.

Use oven for cooking roasts, meats, rather than the broiler surface. Only one element is required for the oven process while three or four elements are needed for the broiler surface.

Use the correct size of cooking utensil on the proper size element. When cooking vegetables, use a minimum amount of water. Defrost refrigerator, regularly, about 34 inches of frost has accumulated on the evaporator.

Where water is electrically heated please use it sparingly. A drop a second from a leaking hot water tap can waste as much as 125 gallons a month.

Fill washing machine with water but only and keep as on tub when washing. Do not overwash. Whenever possible, use the wringer at same time as clothes are being washed in the tub.

Please do not use portable electric heaters as they place a heavy strain on your Hydro System. Your Hydro System is designed to meet the needs of the Province and should not be used any longer than required.

This little pig

In pioneer days, many a man who went to market took along a pig to sell or barter. The larger the pig, the more goods it would bring.

Nowadays custom has changed though the amount of savings we take to market still governs the extent of our purchases. When you invest in Canada Savings Bonds you are fattening a "pig". This particular pig, you can be sure, will always fetch you the most at market, for your investment is backed by the entire wealth and resources of our country.

THE NEW YORK GARDENER

By JOHN DALY
Vice President, Newmarket
Horticultural Society

As I suggested in previous columns, this is the time to divide and transplant your perennials. If you feel your bed needs turning over, you could take up the plants and heel them in somewhere in the shade and dig the bed over, incorporating as much manure compost or bone-meal as you have available. The more thoroughly you do this, the better your plants will grow. For the novice, I should explain that "heeling in" means digging a trench and placing the roots of the plants in it, then covering them and watering the soil. This will keep them in good condition until the ground is ready for re-planting.

Be sure you have the plants labelled with the names. When you are ready to re-plant divide the clumps into pieces about the size of your fist and plant them in three's; that is, have three of a kind about 15 to 18 inches apart. There are exceptions to this as very strong growing plants will do very nicely planted singly. As a general rule, the taller plants go to the rear of the border. However if you have been following my suggestions you will have ideas as to where you want the plants to grow and now is the time to make the changes.

While you are at it your spring-flowering bulbs will be going in too, and don't forget the lily bulbs, which usually come along later than the others. Put a marker in the ground where you want these to grow and leave room to dig a deep hole. I wrote a couple of weeks ago about tulips. However one more thought occurs to me. If you want to leave them in the ground for a few years, then plant them deeper, 8" or even 10", particularly in lighter soils. They don't multiply so rapidly when planted so deep, the original bulb retaining its size better.

Bonfires a Waste

At this time of the year, I see a lot of bonfires and it's not good practice as it means a lot of valuable plant food is being destroyed. It's far better to put fallen leaves and other vegetable matter in a heap to rot and make valuable plant food for the spring garden. If you have a compost heap (about which I wrote so much last spring and will write a lot more) that's the place for it.

Now before the weather gets too cold you had better get those plants you want to keep over the winter inside. I already have my pansies potted. All last winter I had pansies in my window and I'm going to repeat again. I also have several carnations potted. Unlike their relatives, the pinks, they won't live through the winter and I hate to lose them. So I'm potting some of them and hope to enjoy their fragrance and color.

In potting plants, disturb the roots as little as possible, then water them thoroughly and put them in a cool basement for a few days until the roots take hold again. Then you can bring them up to the sunlight. A little later I'll have something to say about forcing Dutch bulbs in the winter. I may lose my home one of these days bringing in so many pots but I must have my flowers and I can't afford to go to Florida and enjoy them outside.

In reading over what I have written I notice I forgot to tell you to be sure and plant your perennials firmly. After planting use your foot tramping the soil around the plants. The same thing applies to bulbs. Firm the soil on top of them to get rid of air pockets around the roots.

Veterans Making Full Use Of Opportunities -- Mackenzie

"I am proud that the Canadian Legion is now one of the strongest organizations in Canada, and possesses the full confidence of our country," declared Hon. Ian Mackenzie, minister of Veterans Affairs, as he addressed several thousand spectators who attended a drumhead service at Stouffville on Sunday. Earlier in the day Mr. Mackenzie had laid the cornerstone of the new Legion hall at Stouffville which he declared would be "a great asset to the community, and a useful living memorial to your gallant dead."

Canada's veterans were taking full advantage of the opportunities offered them, he said, and he noted with pride that 75 percent of the scholarships were being won by ex-service men. Over 50,000 veterans had already completed courses at higher educational centres, he said. Recalling that he had been instrumental in seeing the Legion come into being, he declared "unity, comradeship, and peace" as declared by the late Earl Haig were the real objectives of the organization.

The occasion marked the first public appearance of Mr. Mackenzie's bride of a few weeks ago, and following the ceremony Mr. Mackenzie presented his wife with the silver trowel he had used in laying the cornerstone.

Taking part in the drumhead service were Dr. Stanley Ball (chairman), Rev. R. K. Perdue of Aurora, Rev. Douglas Davis, and Rev. Frank Herman of Stouffville. Zone Commander Bert Phelps, Edward Evans, president of the Ontario Command, Canadian Legion, Major A. A. Mackenzie, M.L.A., and Jack Smith, M.P. Seated at the ceremony were: Warden Charles Hooper, Major Arthur Condie, Lieut.-Col. Harold Breuls, Col. G. M. Fitzgerald, T. A. M. Hulme, Magistrate O. M. Hollinrake, Reeve A. V. Nolan, Zone Commander J. Wagar, Arthur Slaght, K.C., Zone Commander Charles Webb, George Abel, president of the Stouffville Branch, and Major Neil Smith of Stouffville.

The parade saw 15 sets of colors present and several hundred Legionnaires accompanied by Newmarket Citizens Band, and Markham Girls' trumpet band. Col. Breuls took the salute in front of the Stouffville post office. The Stouffville colors were dedicated by Rev. R. K. Perdue and were on parade officially for the first time following the service. Bugler Floyd Burling of Newmarket sounded Last Post and Reveille in faultless style. Held under ideal autumn weather conditions, the ceremonies drew many visitors to Stouffville, and traffic was snarled on several occasions.

708 Lb. Tuna Landed Off N.S. By Dixon Vice-Pres.

Newmarket—The following account, which appeared in an eastern paper, describes recent piscatorial escapades of Barkley S. Hulse, vice-president in charge of sales of the Dixon Pencil Co. Mr. Hulse resides in Toronto, but spends a considerable portion of his time in Newmarket and district. He is a nephew of Harry Hulse, Queensville.

"My wife says she'll never forget the look on my face when she came down to the dock at Wedgeport, N.S., and saw me with the 708-pound bluefin tuna I'd landed a short while before," declared Barkley S. Hulse, 707 Eglinton Ave. West, Toronto, who with Mrs. Hulse, has been spending a combined business and vacation trip in the Maritime provinces, "where there is no hay fever."

Mr. and Mrs. Hulse, visitors to this city for a few days, on Mr. Hulse's first trip to these parts since 1931 when business brought him here twice yearly, heard of the tuna tournament at Wedgeport while in Halifax last Thursday.

Mr. Hulse, an ardent fisherman whose biggest catch up to that time had been a 134 pound lake trout, taken at Meaford, Ont., thought he'd like to try his hand at deep-sea fishing.

Accordingly the couple set out in their car for Yarmouth, where Mr. Hulse had an appointment with a client, intending to stop off at Wedgeport for the fishing. Motor trouble developed on the way and investigation revealed that a new clutch was necessary and the car would be out of commission until Saturday noon.

This complicated matters, as Mr. and Mrs. Hulse had reservations on the Digby boat leaving for Saint John on Saturday afternoon.

But fishermen are hard to discourage. Mr. and Mrs. Hulse proceeded by bus to Yarmouth, stopping off at Wedgeport on their way. Again things were adverse. The water was round and the fish were elsewhere.

The travelers went on to Yarmouth, finished their business and returned to Wedgeport that evening hoping that their luck would turn.

And turn it did, a regular about face. Called at 6 a.m. Mr. Hulse was on board Capt. Elot Le Blanc's tuna fishing boat at 7.30 and out at Soldier's Rip, a famous tuna fishing grounds, at 8.30. In less than three-quarters of an hour, Mr. Hulse had made his big strike. Here's his story:

"I thought a cannon ball had hit the bait," he declares, "and at first I was pretty much excited. I had told the captain before hand that all this was new to me and that he was to tell me how to go about it. The next 40 minutes were about the busiest and most strenuous of my whole life. There were times when I felt like letting that fish go, my arms were so sore. I listened to the captain and followed his instructions and finally I had that big brute boated. I'll never forget the look of the monster's head as he came out of the water."

The party returned to the dock. Mr. Hulse and his trophy were photographed. A certificate of the Wedgeport Tuna Guides Association signed by the manager and the president, was presented to Mr. Hulse, testifying to the fact that the catch weighing 708 pounds had been taken by Mr. Hulse on a 32-ounce hickory rod and a 54-thread line in 40 minutes.

And to make things unanimous, the car was delivered in time for Mr. and Mrs. Hulse to take up their reservations on the CPS Princess Helene, arriving in St. John right on schedule, despite mishap and adventure.

This is Mrs. Hulse's first visit to the Maritimes. She says it's just as wonderful as her husband has been telling her for the last 16 years and they are both planning to return next summer.

Rugby

In last week's column we said that no rugby game would be played until after October 10, but plans were changed and a game was arranged for Friday, Oct. 2, with St. Andrew's at St. Andrew's. The boys went to the game and came home proud of their victory of 8-4. This is a terrific start, boys. Keep it up.

In copying the files I overlooked the name of one of last year's graduates, Peggy Locke, who is attending the University of Toronto.

Athletic Nominations

The following are the Athletic Society nominations: girls: pres., Audrey Rowland, Pat Duncan; vice-pres., Betty Pegg, Jean Webster, Doris Pollock; sec., Marg. King, Helen Epworth, Betty Ball, Beth Theaker; treas., Beth Legge, Audrey Lepard; Boys: pres., Duncan Beattie, Fred Case, Stallard Waterhouse; vice-pres., Bruce Grose, Garry Proctor, George Case, Lloyd Powell; sec., Jack Adams, Harold Proctor, Jim Rutledge, Robert Budd, Joe Kelley; sec.-treas., Bob Winch, Ross Lee, Bill Ewing, Bob Atchison.

This report of the rugby game at St. Andrew's was written by Fred Case.

Newmarket high school seniors went down to St. Andrew's last Friday and played the St. Andrew's Seconds in a hotly contested game. Newmarket lacked the finish of S.A.C., due mainly to the lack of experience. In the first half of the game S.A.C. seemed sure winners. They advanced many yards and N.H.S. seemed unable to hold them back. In spite of their opening power, however, they compiled only three points and Newmarket got two points by Bovair's great kicking.

The second half of the game was much staidier and neither team seemed to have an advantage. With five minutes remaining in the game, S.A.C. blocked one of Bovair's kicks and a minute later scored a point on a kick.

N.H.S. got the ball with four minutes to go and they advanced up the field in a last minute drive. The whole team began to work together and made it possible for McNern to get to S.A.C.'s 40-yard line. Powell went to the one-yard line for a forward pass, and Ewing carried the ball over the line in the last play of the game. Bovair converted and Newmarket ended up with an 8-4 victory.

PLEASANTVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Lea, Toronto, and Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, Toronto, were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Foster.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Starr and children had Sunday tea with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Arnold, Queensville.

The Bogartown Women's Institute will meet on Tuesday, Oct. 21, at Bogartown school under the social welfare committee. There will be pictures upstairs and a bazaar later in the basement, and lunch booth.

The Pine Orchard Union church services were well attended on Sunday. Rev. Roy Hicks, Aurora, gave a most instructive message. The two solos sung by Chas. Boyd, Newmarket, and chorus by Pine Orchard choir were in keeping with the day. In the evening Rev. Rae, Stouffville, a returned missionary from China, gave the message while two lovely duets were sung by Mrs. Wagg and Mrs. Ratcliff, Stouffville.

Sorry to report Mr. John McClure is ill and confined to his bed.

MOUNT PLEASANT

Not many at church on Sunday. Just seemed to be the day for visiting.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Davidson and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Kay and daughter of Belhaven visited at Lakeview at the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Davis and Nell.

Mrs. E. Yorke and Claude visited at Stroud and the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wyre recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Hopkins visited in Toronto at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hensley.

The Guild supper was well attended Wednesday and the ladies report a good time.

ELMHURST BEACH

Mrs. Cecil MacDonald visited her sister, Mrs. Strobidge, in Brantford last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Al. Hodgins of "Alo" Lunch, with Ken Hodgins and Claude Pollock, spent last week in New York City.

Mrs. Lloyd Pollock is sick. Mr. Selby Sedore fell last week and cracked three ribs. Mr. and Mrs. Coulson Cameron are on holidays this week at "Terryholme" and plan to visit relatives in Owen Sound.

Mrs. Arthur Sedore and son, Glen, have returned from visiting Mrs. Sedore's sister in Alberta.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Clark enjoyed a holiday trip this summer to the coast. Since returning, the uncle whom they visited died very suddenly.

ISN'T IT JUST AS IMPORTANT TO KEEP HEALTH IN REPAIR?

Is your health more important than your golf? A silly question to ask. But it's even more absurd not to answer it by emphatic action. Prove that you value health by protecting it. Ask your Doctor to give you a thorough physical check-up. Have the other members of your family group do likewise... If your Doctor finds a condition that needs correction—and writes a prescription—we'll appreciate the privilege of expertly compounding it for you.

LIFE'S Bigger DECISIONS

This year?

Next year?

Sometime?

So you and The Girl are in a rosy whirl trying to tie those dreams down to 'The Day'. You'll find that big question will break up into a hundred smaller ones and it's usually a very confusing—but wonderful—business.

Our long experience in helping to translate dreams into realities prompts us to suggest one step which we know will be helpful. We suggest you lose no time in calling in your North American Life representative and checking over your insurance investment program. With your future independence abiding, you'll find that current decisions can be more easily and wisely made.

Your North American Life man has plans (starting with as little as $5 a month) which can make the biggest dreams work out right. His service to you is backed by a mutual company with 66 years' happy experience in helping young people realize the "IFS" from tomorrow. Why move the "IFS" from tomorrow. Why not call him now and make a date for a three-way chat?

Trying To Cover Forest Report, C.C.F. Head Says

Richmond Hill — At a public meeting held Saturday evening, Oct. 4, in connection with the annual convention of the North York C.C.F. Association, an election of officers was held for the North York C.C.F. council. Ontario leader, E. B. Jolliffe, spoke at the meeting.

The meeting was presided over by T. A. Weaver, Richmond Hill, newly elected president of the North York C.C.F. Association. The speaker was introduced by A. H. Woods, Newmarket, immediate past-president. The following officers were elected by acclamation: president, T. A. Weaver, Richmond Hill; first vice-president, Geo. Calver, Mount Albert; second vice-president, Dr. E. G. Dickinson, North York township; secretary, Mrs. Stephenson, Richmond Hill; treasurer, Dudley Briston, Woodbridge.

The above named officers and the immediate past-president, together with 14 delegates representing 12 zones, will comprise the North York C.C.F. council for the ensuing year. In his speech, Mr. Jolliffe charged the Drew government of trying to hide the serious implications of the Kennedy report on Ontario forests by causing an uproar with the announcement that the export of unmanufactured pulpwood will be ended over a ten-year period.

Mr. Jolliffe deplored the fact that great numbers of people had become apathetic about the serious economic problems in the world. Too many are reconciled to a clash between United States and Russia, he said. He agreed

(Advertisement) MUTUAL LEADER HONORED

R. L. LANGFORD

The Mutual Life of Canada has released its honor list, recognizing Mr. R. L. Langford, Newmarket, for outstanding service to his community in the Club Year recently closed. He has qualified as a member of the Leaders' Century club. Qualification for club membership requires not only the writing of a large volume of new business but, more important, the writing from year to year of "quality business", that is, life insurance that is continued in force. These two factors, combined with a high personal standard of confidential service to policyholders, earn for Mutual Life representatives membership in the production clubs.

Aurora—The largest gathering in the history of Rising Sun Masonic Lodge was noted on Friday evening when Rt. Wor. Bro. Gilbert Clayton was present for the lodge inspection.

MAGISTRATE'S COURT CARELESS DRIVING CHARGE DISMISSED

Newmarket—A charge of careless driving against Norman Bryson, a farmer in Vaughan twp., was dismissed in magistrate's court on Friday when no evidence of criminal action on the part of the accused was presented. Bryson, on the afternoon of September 9, had attempted to turn left while travelling north on Yonge St. at the northern outskirts of Aurora when his car was hit by one driven by Helen Andrews, New York City, who was travelling south.

John Gilbert, 16, Aurora, testified that he was travelling north behind Bryson and said that he saw Bryson signal for a left turn and then stop in the middle lane of the three-lane highway. Gilbert said he passed Bryson on the right hand side and then seeing the Andrews car passing, he looked back and saw the crash.

Bryson said he was turning into Daniel's garage on the west side of the highway. He waited for a south-bound truck to go by and saw the other car which he said was about 420 feet away. He said he thought he could make it. The left side of the Andrews car struck the front of Bryson's car which was pointed west. Constable Wm. Langman laid the charges.

Max Rosenberg, Toronto, was fined $40 and costs for careless driving between Aurora and Holland Landing on Yonge St. He was charged by Constable T. H. Craig of the Provincial Police on July 13.

Anton J. Ratz, charged with breaking into Morton Bros. garage at Mount Albert and with possession of stolen goods, was remanded until October 10. Two other men believed by police to have been connected with the theft have not yet been apprehended.

Finds "Praying Mantis" At Rest On Tombstone

By GOLDEN GLOW

If you look in the dictionary to see what a mantis is, here is what you'll find: mantis—an orthopterous insect of slender, grotesque form. It is also called pugnacious and voracious. And folks, I saw one "in the flesh" on Saturday and I assure you it is grotesque!

Long and slender with three pairs of legs, it really could be independent of the odd looking front ones. It is the front ones that give it the name "praying mantis", for it folds these queer front legs under its chin in the attitude of prayer. The one I saw was found by a neighbor—and of all places it was on the monument on her plot up in the cemetery. It must have been indulging in a prayer session for it certainly couldn't find much to eat on a tombstone. She said if it hadn't been on the monument she would never have seen it, and I, too, feel sure none of us would never have either, for it is exactly like a green leaf until you see it move—a long, slim leaf.

It must be two or two and a half inches long with two antennae protruding from the top of its green head. The way it would humbly lower its head and fold its jointed front feet under its chin was amusing. My neighbor had seen an account of them in the paper a few weeks ago, else she, in all probability, would not have taken any notice of it.

So watch out and probably you, too, will find one of the peculiar looking insects. Grotesque is the word for them!

Summer is the best time to carry out cleaning and repairs of the heating system in the home.

Always use a cutting board when shredding or cutting vegetables or slicing fruit on the drainboard or sink to avoid chipping the enamel.

Canada Savings Bonds

SECOND SERIES

You'll never be sorry
you saved!

this twentieth-century metal certainly gets around!

IT GETS AROUND... THE WORLD

Every country in the world is today buying Canadian Aluminum produced at Alvida, Canada, home of the largest Aluminum smelter in the world. The "Alcan" ingot has become a major factor in world trade—and a valuable source of the foreign exchange which Canada needs to cover her own buying abroad.

aluminum in the north woods? Yes, even there this versatile metal makes itself useful in a dozen ways. That canoe is aluminum. So are the paddles. So is the reel, and the reel, and the tackle box. Non-rusting, light-as-a-feather aluminum is proving itself a natural for an ever-growing list of sports equipment; skis and skates and hockey sticks and bicycles...

And, of course, that's just one small part of the story. From industrial castings to objects of art, Canadian manufacturers are leading the way to stronger, lighter, more attractive articles of every-day use. Our own development and research is helping them to blaze new trails—places at their disposal a wealth of technical know-how. Today over six hundred Canadian companies are turning out products made with this miracle metal of the Twentieth Century.

In Memoriam

Brown—In loving memory of our darling little daughter, Betty Bernice Brown, who was taken suddenly October 12, 1946, age 7 years. Our dear Betty was taken away. Beautiful memories are all we have left. Of her we loved dearly and shall never forget. Her loving smile and happy face, A broken link we can never replace. Sad was the parting, no one can tell. So sudden on earth the sorrow fell. Memories we treasure no one can steal. Death leaves a heartache no one can heal. In a home that is lonesome today. So sadly missed and ever remembered by mom, dad and Iona.

Lawson—In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Mereda J. Lawson, who passed away Oct. 12, 1937. Mother was tired and weary. Weary with toil and with pain. Put by her glasses and rocker. She will not need them again. Into heaven's mansion she's entered. Never to sigh or to weep. After long years with life's struggles. Mother has fallen asleep. Beautiful rest for the weary. Well deserved rest for the true. When our life's journey is ended. We shall again be with you. Always remembered and sadly missed by husband and family.

Pegg—In loving memory of Samuel J. Pegg who died October 1, 1945. You're not forgotten, father dear. Nor ever shall you be. As long as life and memory last. We shall remember thee. Ever remembered by Audrey, Fred, Bobby, David and Jimmy.

Pollock—In proud and loving memory of a dear brother, Pte. Ivan George Pollock, Blackwater. Killed in action in Belgium, Oct. 9, 1944. Remembrance is a golden chain. Death tries to break, but all in vain. To have, to love, and then to part. Is the greatest sorrow of one's heart. The years may wipe out many things. But this they wipe out never: The memory of those happy days When we were all together. Ever remembered by brother Audrey and sister-in-law, Helen, and nieces Dianne and Dorene.

Jean Ann's Wardrobe

Jean Ann, six years old, takes pride in the clothes "mommy makes me".

Jean Ann is the youngest of five children. Hers is a large family to live in comfort on a small income. Credit is due the parents—neither of whom can endure waste and, in this matter, have set fine examples which their children are following. As a result, this family enjoys a much higher standard of living than other families with higher incomes.

The family budget doesn't allow extravagances in clothes. There are hand-me-downs, but they receive alterations of size and style so that they suit the new owner. No one wears misfits or shabby clothes in Jean Ann's family.

Jean Ann's wardrobe is really elaborate despite the fact that every article in it is a remake. Her dressing-gown was once a crib blanket. The tops of her favorite pyjamas were made from an outgrown pink dressing-gown, the bottoms from a blue crib cover. The strip cut from the bottom of the dressing-gown makes bands for the pyjama legs. A salvaged zipper fastener especially pleases Jean Ann.

Jean Ann's play suit has leggings made from the turned sleeves of her mother's old coat. The windbreaker and hood are lined with an older sister's outgrown plaid skirt. She has a beaming cape, fashioned from a flared skirt. Jean Ann has jumpers and skirts made from her brothers' outgrown pants and blouses from daddy's shirts.

Jean Ann's outgrown dresses are altered into sun dresses or blouses. The sun dresses are simply made by removing the sleeves and using them to make shoulder straps, which lower the neckline as well as the hemline. When her outgrown dresses are used as blouses, they either serve, as is, for combination blouse and slip under jumpers and skirts, or, if shortened the cut strip is used for matching hankie, trimming of jumper, pantie trim or for enlarging width of blouse and sleeve by inserting in side seams

Show Temperance Films At Friends' Meeting

Newmarket—James Coney, superintendent of New England Yearly Meeting, his wife, Elsie Coney, and Stanley and Claire Van Every, Pelham, Ont., met with the Friends here last Sunday.

In the morning meeting for worship, James Coney brought a very acceptable message on the power of the Holy Spirit to transform lives. Dinner was served at the close of the meeting, followed by a song service.

At 2 p.m. James Coney showed sound films entitled "The Healing of the Nobleman's Son and It's the Brain that Counts," a film on Temperance education.

from edge of sleeve to bottom of blouse.

Everyone admires the attractive and original outfits that Jean Ann models. It's no wonder Jean Ann takes pride in the clothes "mommy makes me".

YOUTH FOR CHRIST JOINS WORLD BODY

"The Newmarket Youth for Christ is now formally affiliated with the International Youth for Christ," states Roy Langford, this year's director of the Newmarket Rally. The Youth for Christ is almost global in its scope and every week sees approximately 2,000 rallies held. "In Peiping and Tien-tsin, China, Youth for Christ rallies are a weekly event, and they have proven also to be a great boon to missionaries in Nigeria and other parts of Africa," Mr. Langford says.

The international president is Dr. Tony Johnson of Chicago and the head office for the Youth for Christ in Ontario is in Brantford with Evan Hedley as secretary. The Toronto director, Charles Templeton, is on the international board of directors.

Mr. Langford was elected by the Youth for Christ committee which consists of representatives of the Young People's groups in Newmarket, subject to the approval of the Ministerial Association. Other officers for the coming year are: assistant director and song leader, Jonas Shepherd, Mennonite church; assistant song leader, Harold Hillton, Christian church; secretary, Violet Curtis, Gospel Tabernacle; treasurer, Harry McGhee, St. Andrew's Presbyterian church; program chairman, Ron. Beckett, Free Methodist church; pianists, Violet Curtis, and Pearl Sparks, Church of the Nazarene.

Red Cross War Funds Used For Food Aid

Newmarket—"Col. Arthur L. Bishop, chairman of the national executive of the Canadian Red Cross Society, has announced that a million dollars from its remaining war funds have been voted by the society for the purchase and shipment of food in bulk to ease this winter's food crisis in Britain and Europe," Mrs. Allen J. Cody, secretary of the Newmarket branch of the society, said yesterday.

The British ministry of food and various European governments are providing free ocean freight on Red Cross bulk food shipments. Balance of transportation costs will be borne by the Red Cross, which is concentrating on bulk shipments of food as a means of providing a maximum of food at a minimum cost. Shipments will be consigned for distribution to Canadian Red Cross representatives in Britain, and, in Europe, to the Red Cross Societies of the respective countries concerned. All goods will be labelled "Gift from the people of Canada through the Canadian Red Cross Society".

ELECTED TO POSTS ON C.W.L. COUNCIL

Two Newmarket women were elected to office at the 27th annual meeting of the Toronto Arch-diocesan Council of the Catholic Women's League of Canada. Mrs. Martin P. Lamey was elected president and Mrs. W. A. McCaffrey became the new corresponding secretary.

The annual meeting which was held at the Community Centre, Barrie, on October 2 and 3, was opened by Rev. Father Clair. The morning session was given over to general business with the afternoon session featuring the annual reports of the delegates of the 12 sub-divisions.

The highlight of the day was the banquet in the evening at which the welcome address was given by Mayor Grant Mayor of Barrie. The guest speaker was Rev. E. J. Lawlor of Barrie.

The session was honored on the second day by the surprise visit from His Eminence James Cardinal McGuigan. At the luncheon on October 3, John F. Woods, K.C., spoke on child welfare.

The election of officers was held in the afternoon with these results: pres. Mrs. Lamey, Newmarket; first vice-pres. Mrs. F. C. Guilfoyle, Barrie; second vice-pres. Mrs. J. J. Howarth, Toronto; third vice-pres. Mrs. A. H. Sequin, Toronto; recording sec. Mrs. A. W. Lawrence, Toronto; corresponding sec. Mrs. W. A. McCaffrey, Newmarket; treas. Miss Rosamond Smith, Toronto.

After the meeting was adjourned a delightful tea was enjoyed at the home of Mrs. F. C. Guilfoyle.

day, Oct. 16, at 2.30 p.m. Mrs. Caroline Ion will give a book review and the roll-call will be your favorite book of the year. Will all members kindly make a special effort to be present.

Make Thanks Tangible Help Less Fortunate

By GOLDEN GLOW
It is less than three months to Christmas and soon now we will be getting busy on our Christmas boxes for overseas. For those who have friends in far away Australia, New Zealand and up in Iceland, Christmas gifts, letters and greeting cards must be given even more time than to Britain if they are to arrive on the dot. The closer we get to Christmas, the greater the rush, and the old slogan "mail your Christmas parcels early" is a good one to remember.
I was talking to a friend recently who is visiting in town from South Africa, and he came by way of England, then on to New York by the Queen Elizabeth. He said he couldn't get over the food on board ship and here in America after he landed. He says it is unbelievable how the British people carry on under such strict rationing. Money means less than nothing if a person lacks coupons. The situation, as he painted it, looks pretty grim, and here we are within a few days of Thanksgiving and will we remember all this on that day?
No doubt, we are all looking forward to a special Thanksgiving dinner, with all the "trimmings." One of the "trimmings" is cranberry sauce, and already the berries are in the stores ready for the housewife when she does her holiday shopping—and pumpkins too. They also loom large on the horizon when we think of Thanksgiving dinner, pumpkin pie, dark with spice, and golden with a touch of corn syrup on top.
Has Added Force
But I am wandering from what I started out to say. I was trying to tell about the condition of the folks overseas. When you hear about it from someone who has recently been there, it seems to come home to you with added force. One sees the long queues, lining up for this and that, and, maybe, when your turn comes, there is nothing left. You may see, for instance, rice advertised in the paper for a certain day, on a certain hour, at a certain shop. The long line forms up, and you wait and wait. If you are fairly young and strong—or can contend with the black market or "under the counter" selling, you may go home with a tiny packet, but if you are crippled, ill, or elderly, you stand a very slim chance of getting anything at all.
The black market means a good deal of spoiled food, too, as you can well imagine. Fish, for instance. We all know that fish deteriorates rapidly, so being held for higher prices in the black market means considerable wastage, and what can one do about it? Just nothing.
If everything could be distributed evenly how much easier all round. Even the food sent from the dominions overseas cannot reach certain people, and often the very ones who need it and should have it are the ones who never receive a parcel. If they are old, as I said before, or crippled, or ill, and cannot get out to places where they can put themselves in the way of receiving their share of overseas gift parcels, then those stronger and lustier get the benefit. And there's nothing evidently to be done about it.
He told me, as we have heard many times before, that it is the monotony in their food that is so hard to bear. Twenty-five cents worth of meat for a family for a week, and some "ersatz" concoction like macaroni but which isn't macaroni—and everything seems to taste alike. They concentrate on puddings.

Then, the coal situation is far worse than last year. I asked if they did not have stoves like ours or did they still have fireplaces, and was told that in the majority of cases it is still the fireplace; and well we know how very inadequate they are in really wintry weather. Many elderly folk go to bed in extreme weather to get warm, and keep warm.
And Monday is Thanksgiving day, and in spite of our wintry weather and the nights of frost we still have plenty. The harvest, in our locality at least, is very bountiful. We have so much to be thankful for! May be prices are away up—but still there are things for sale and of a good variety. So I think we can show our gratitude by keeping up our boxes for the folk overseas. There are many things, we all know them by this time, that go safely and are so welcome. The letters that come in response to these boxes send a warm glow through one, and make you want to keep right on. But my plea is give the boxes plenty of time—better early than late.

Aurora — The Board of Trade will hold its next waste paper salvage collection on Saturday, Oct. 11. Householders are requested to keep this date in mind and have their parcels tied securely and placed at the street. The proceeds will go to the board's community memorial fund. In last week's issue the date was October 18 but it has since been changed to October 11.

Saskatchewan Farmer Makes Watering Trough

Out of the wreckage of old and outmoded implements, farmers in Saskatchewan sometimes concoct the odd useful piece of equipment. The wheel of an old steam tractor, eight feet in diameter, didn't seem to be doing much good on the farm of E. F. Altwasser, Yellow Grass, Sask., so the farmer, with the aid of a bag or two of cement, made himself a stock watering trough with it. Altwasser set the wheel in the yard near the windmill after spokes had been removed, poured a cement bottom, plugged both holes, and completed a piece of equipment which, he claims, will last forever.

Three Tyler St. Residents
Protest Odors From Collis

Aurora—Three Tyler St. residents, A. E. Cox, Frank Barnes, and Mrs. E. V. Underhill, wrote Aurora town council complaining of the odors emanating from the Collis Leather Co. affluent, and also maintaining that chemicals used this year by the firm were damaging paint on their properties and others in the area. After a lengthy discussion the council decided to deal with the matter more fully at a later date after discussing it with public health and company officials.

Reeve C. E. Sparks warned council that in 1948, a bigger appropriation is needed for streets. "Owing to excessive expenditures in 1946 and the early part of this year, we have had to curtail our plans for many new sidewalks and there has been practically nothing for streets. If we are going to progress we'll have to have more money another year," he said.

The council approved Councillor Thomas Swindle's recommendations for snow removal this winter. Mr. Swindle recommended advertisements in the press for a "part time force" of those who would be willing to accept employment for snow-shovelling, and also that the police be made responsible for regular side walk inspections. "The by-law should be enforced this year, or else done away with," said Mr. Swindle.

The flow of water at the waterworks property has gone down 100 gallons per minute in the last few months, Deputy-Reeve Asa Cook reported and council approved engaging Wesley Hoffman at $5 an hour to clean out the wells.

Aurora — Principal J. H. Knowles was named to the town planning board by council on Monday evening. Mr. Knowles succeeds Victor Attridge who submitted his resignation to the board.

NOTE PROVISIONS
IN LEASE OF RINK

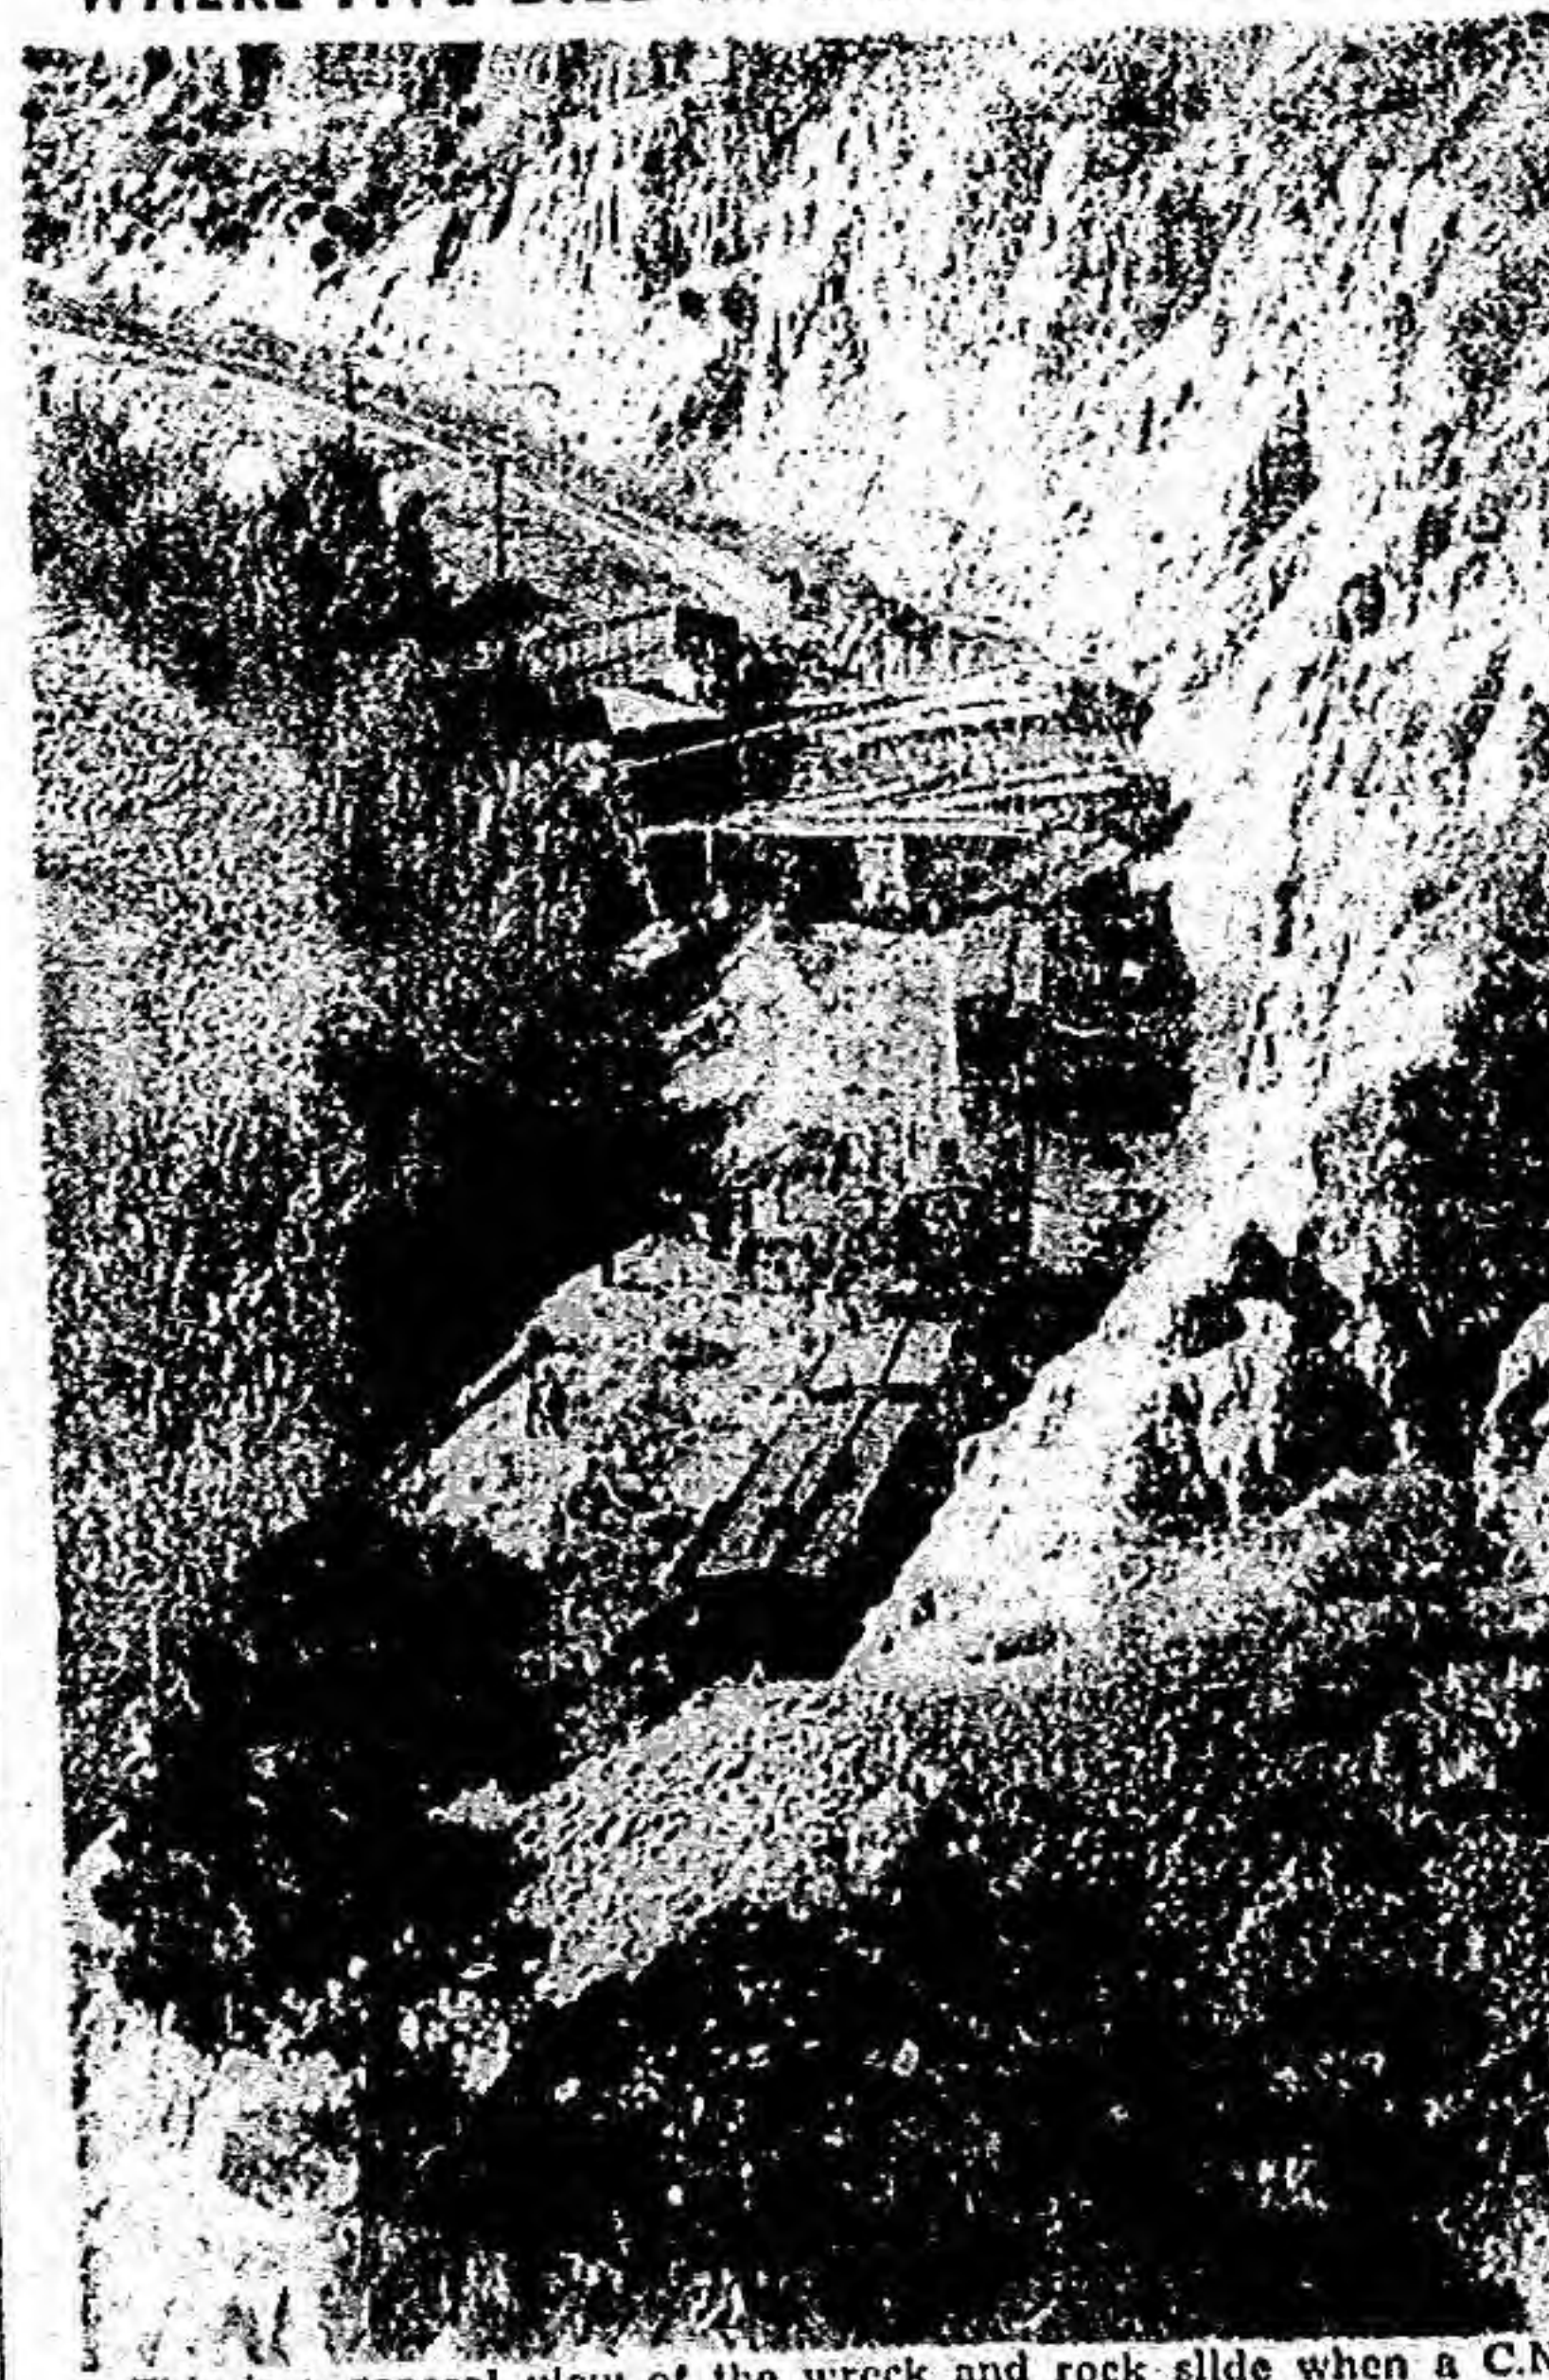

Aurora—Councillor J. E. Sisman outlined to council on Monday some of the contract provisions that will be included in the rental contract for Aurora arena when it is let this month. Eight hours of free skating time a week must be provided for the public and high schools and public. Certain hours will be available for hire by the schools in the day, and St. Andrew's College and Lions hockey will be able to purchase ten and eight hours of time a week. Four hours of public skating must be provided.

MAKE APPEAL FOR HELP TO BRITAIN

Aurora—Mrs. S. D. R. Hewitt, who heads the "Food for Britain" drive, conducted by Trinity parish, points out the present food rations prevailing in the British Isles. Per person, per week the following is allowed: butter, 2 oz., bacon, 3 oz., margarine, 2 oz., cheese, 2 oz., cooking fat, 1 oz., meat, 23 cents worth, 1 pint of milk, and for a whole month only one egg. Fruit juices are practically unknown now.

Next Sunday is another White Gift service at Trinity Anglican church and a special appeal is made to the people of Aurora to contribute to this most urgent cause.

Lack Of Funds For Town
'Frustrating' Council Finds

Aurora — A report tabled by the water committee which recommended the engaging of a waterworks foreman will be fully discussed at a special meeting of council in the near future. Deputy-Reeve A. A. Cook pointed out a long list of waterworks work that had been approved but not touched by town employees and urged that someone familiar with water problems be engaged and especially assigned to the job.

"All we need is more men. If we keep on you'll have a boss for every man," said Councillor Stewart Patrick.

"We fail to realize just what 15 or 20 new houses and extra streets mean for additional services from the municipality," said the mayor.

"Council and the people are frustrated and annoyed because things are not getting done. There are too many loose ends. We can't even get work done the way we want it," said Councillor Thomas Swindle. "We need somebody like a town manager. I would like to see a young man, with civil engineering experience, engaged. It shouldn't be necessary to have to wait months for engineering and survey reports from high priced persons out of town."

"It's all very good to talk about what we need, but we haven't the money to spend for a lot of the work mentioned now," said Councillor Patrick. "We need more men, and we should contract for work that is needed immediately if we are to get it done."

"There seems to be considerable confusion as to the type of man we need and what we can afford. It seems to be the same thing most meetings—we want something but haven't the money," said Councillor J. E. Sisman.

We welcome Mr. Henry and Mr. Smith and families to town. They have taken over the general store here.

DON'T BE GUILTY

Just as sure as parents criticize the teacher and the school system, just so sure will the pupil find a way out from under his tasks. Surely we can expect parents to let the seeds grow and come up without pulling them out before they are well started. Don't be guilty of making it easy for the child to play the teacher off against the parent. —Perth (Ont.) Courier.

Juvenile Horticultural Show

Newmarket—The Juvenile Fall show was held this year at St. Paul's parish hall on Friday, Sept. 26, under the chairmanship of H. A. Jackson, supervising principal of Newmarket public schools. It was sponsored by the Newmarket Horticultural Society. The show, which was open to all pupils of the separate and public schools, was the biggest one in several years with much keen competition.

The judges of the show were Mrs. Frank Hodge, Mrs. Walter Stephens, Mrs. Charles Harman, James Gibney and Rudy Renzius. They all stated that the children's exhibits were of a very high standard.

Between 7.30 and 9.30 p.m. the parish hall was jammed to capacity with excited children directing the attention of their parents to their particular exhibits. The teachers of all the schools deserve much credit for the excellent way in which they encouraged and aided the children in this show.

The winner of the Office Specialty Mfg. Co. cheque which goes to the school gaining the highest number of points and the names of the children gaining the highest number of credits will be announced next week.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

In virtually every job, future developments must be constantly taken into account.

If you are working to a definite schedule, your main and perhaps only concern will be to keep up with it.

But if you have no such schedule to adhere to, don't fall into the error of thinking that it is not necessary to plan your work ahead. Every job can be done more efficiently by taking future requirements into account.

The advantages of doing so are many and important. To suggest a few:

It enables you to be better prepared for each task as you come to it.

It closes up gaps between operations—eliminates delays.

It gives you a clear picture of your whole job and of production rates which may be needed for reference at any moment.

While these are broad generalizations, I am sure that an analysis of your particular job will reveal many other specific advantages of "organizing for tomorrow".

The necessity of planning for one's financial future is recognized by millions of Canadian owners of Life Insurance. For them and their families, security is an assured fact.

SHUR-GAIN FEED SERVICE NEWS

The Brood Sow Has A Busy 12 Months

The sow raising two litters a year may break down under the strain - if not properly fed. Small litters, weak litters, puny pigs and failure to breed are common signs of a partial break-down.

Shur-Gain 15% Sow Ration helps to eliminate this danger. It means

Larger Litters
Large Individual Pigs at Birth

Lower Losses of Little Pigs Before Weaning
The Foundation of 40 Round Pigs at 3 Weeks

Your sows NEED a special feed balanced with high minerals and vitamins. A feed that will maintain the heavy drain on their constitutions.

Shur-Gain 15% Sow Ration is made FRESH at your local Feed Service Mill.

FARMER'S DEFENCE
Soaring prices of butter, eggs and other farm products are bringing down the wrath of housewives on the heads of the hapless farmer. With Housewives Leagues talking boycotts and a lot of well-meaning consumers feeling that the farmer is actually profiteering... it is essential that farm organizations give an increasing amount of attention to studying and publicizing excessive distribution and processing spreads

ALLEYS

By PIN-BOY

The Sangamo mixed bowling league got under way last Thursday night at Bowldway and Will Jarvis took the scoring leads with a 571. Big Fred Gardner took second place with 558 and Tom Wilson came close third with 557. In the ladies' department it was thus: Betty Bunn, 402; Mrs. H. Moore, 381; Jean Harmon, 369.

Here are the standings for the Mount Albert teams. Tigers 14, Skylarks 12, Cubs 12, Cardinals 12, and Excelsior 10. We also have some high averages in the individual scoring: With the men, G. Scott 200, J. Dampf 184, F. Dampf 177, M. Roberts 177. With the ladies, Iola Campbell 150, W. Oldham 141, R. Parks 141, B. Pearson 139, and B. Comer 139.

Last Friday night the Bradford Lions club had the following high scores. Bill Eck 243, Art Kneeshaw 221, Joe Magani 224. The boys from Bradford have expanded their league and a larger bunch came down on Tuesday night. A great bunch of fellows, they all seem to have a great time. They have formed teams in their league and Tuesday night the Crummy Loafers took five points, Hot Shots five, Bradford Aces two, and the Dukes two points.

In the Office Specialty group, first scoring honors go to Ken Giles who bowled 204, 213, 171 for 588. T. B. Scott, 202, 213, 171 for 584. Third place was taken by S. Parks with 168, 216, 162 for 546.

In the Davis Leather league Tansley's team took five points. Revill's also took five points. Smith's team is still at the top in the league. Art Benington bowled 181, 265, 229 for 675. L. Forhan 222, 179, 272 for 673. W. Groves 157, 271, 242 for 670.

We have been reporting regularly on the progress of the Smith Alleys down town. Well, workmen are almost finished and it will be a short time until bowlers can get under way down there. The Bowldway is running capacity crowds and have to turn away many enthusiasts as there just isn't enough room for everybody.

A kitten nearly stole the show from the Beaver Cove when the brand new Canadian Pacific cargo liner arrived at Montreal from Liverpool on her maiden voyage. The pussy, becoming excited, overstepped the dock and fell into the harbor just as the ship was coming alongside. The kitten is shown, lower right, with eight of its nine lives still intact but very wet after longshoremen succeeded in pulling it to safety on a rope to which it clung after falling overboard. Upper picture shows Beaver Cove coming alongside with her sister ship, Beaverglen, in background. At lower right, Capt. B. B. Grant, master of the Beaver Cove, is showing George A. Walker, K.C., vice president of the C.P.R., through the wheel house shortly after the maiden voyage was completed. Arrival of the Beaver Cove at Montreal completed restoration of the Canadian Pacific's fast London-Canada service, three other newly-constructed ships having joined the run last year. The five ships of the pre-war Canadian Pacific Beaver fleet were lost during hostilities.

"Remains" to be Seen

After early service at Sutton, Eng., Parish church one day recently, a little procession came out of the main porch and made its way to a 200-year-old tomb in the churchyard. The heavy iron door was unlocked and a brief inspection was made of seven coffins inside. Then the tomb was locked again.

The ceremony was the annual opening of the tomb of James Gibson, a wealthy 17th-century city merchant, and his family. Body snatchers were busy when he died, and a daughter, Mary, left a large sum for the tomb's upkeep and annual inspection, which has been made for 160 years.

Nearly half the homes in Canada still use wood as heating fuel.

QUEEN'S YORKS HOLD ANNUAL COUNTY NIGHT

Aurora—Warden Charles Hooper and members of York county council, Mayor Robert Saunders, Toronto, and other distinguished guests attended the annual county night of the Queen's York Rangers last night at Fort York Armory. Under the command of Lieut.-Col. Hunter, the county regiment made a fine showing. It was the first occasion the regiment had been inspected since becoming an armored unit, and the visitors showed great interest in the workings of the Sherman tanks, and wireless sets.

On Sunday the North York Squadron is holding manoeuvres in the afternoon on the E. J. Williams farm near Newmarket and visitors are welcome to attend.

TEEN-AGE BADINAGE

Leonard Simmons has finally given forth with some of the inside dope on the Aurora hockey situation. A junior team will definitely be entered in the C group again minus, of course, Billy Mundell and possibly Jack Atkinson. In addition, a juvenile team will be entered in the O.M.H.A. and the Lions' usual four-team bantam series will continue. Simmons looks for a strong juvenile team but couldn't express an opinion about the strength of his juniors.

No word as yet as to whether Del Babcock or Bill Holloway will be with the teams. With his new duties as school principal, coach Babcock is not too keen to take on the job again. "Old Faithful" Holloway, 'tis said, feels he, too, has done his share in bringing the youngsters along and both may be persuaded to come back again. Bradford has lost most of its good junior team by way of removals or age and the Bowman brothers from Stroud and Bill Boychhoff from LeRoy are both expected to perform in the Barrie district. A juvenile and midget team will be entered from Celerytown.

A player squabble has arisen between Victoria Square-Stouffville and the new Unionville entry. The boys who played with Stouffville last winter want to return again, despite the fact Unionville and Markham, too, may have territorial claims on the players. Doug James, Markham, is hardly likely to be as generous as last year in waiving players through Markham. The O.H.A. executive will likely have the matter referred to them.

First hockey practice for Aurora teams will be at Barrie the week of October 15 and to those interested, Barrie arena can hardly cater now to those who want ice space. Ron Simmons, class young centre of Aurora juniors, is slated for a trial with Barrie juniors, it is rumored, in the near future. He'll make a real try for the A series but will probably go back with Aurora for further seasoning. Did you see the North York kids in Saturday morning's paper representing Aurora, Newmarket and Richmond Hill schools on the "junior council and executive" of a big store teen-age group? The gents were Keith Kyle, Aurora, Joe Kelly, Newmarket, and Bob Hood, Richmond Hill. The dovelays were Marg Calhoun, Aurora, Mary Lou Little, Newmarket, and Margaret Scott, Richmond Hill.

MAKE IT A DATE

Friday, Oct. 10: North York inter-school meet at Pickering College; Saturday, Oct. 11: Aurora Lions shoot at Lambert Willson's farm, Richmond Hill; Lions shoot at Ender's Nursery; Monday, Oct. 13, Aurora Cycling club, 25-mile road race at Aurora, harness races at Woodbridge fair; Wednesday, Oct. 15: big boxing show at Richmond Hill arena featuring Joey Bagnato, sponsored by Branch 375, Canadian Legion.

ODDS AND SODS

Douglas Clark, the new addition to the staff of Aurora public school, is an experienced hockey player and he hopes to see some intermediate action around Aurora. He played in the R.C.A.F. and once had the job of checking Eddie Wiseman. The class of baseball in the district is pretty well indicated as Milton, conquerors of Aurora juveniles, and Collingwood, which measured Markham midgets, both went on to win Ontario titles. Tottenham, featuring Bill Thornton, former Aurora junior hockeyist, and Harry Couse, the redoubtable hurler of the South Simcoe league, are currently playing Cobourg in the semi-final round of the Canadian Legion B softball series. The winner meets riverside from near Windsor on Thanksgiving Day in the finals. Marg McIntosh, who played softball for Aurora ladies the past summer and also did a swell job as V.O.N. nurse in Aurora, has accepted an appointment in Ottawa and leaves next week. Woodbridge midgets captured the district teen-age lacrosse series, defeating Richvale in the finals. Woodbridge Canadian Legion presented a handsome trophy to the winners.

Floxy Curry, who sparkled on the wingline for Toronto Navy in those well remembered games against Newmarket camp, has been signed by Les Canadiens for a regular N.H.L. berth. Curry played senior last winter. Dave Matheson, who was one of the early sports officers at the now departed Newmarket camp, is district representative for a well known Canadian distillery. Gene Rose, who played for Aurora juniors last winter and just about single-handedly eliminated Newmarket juniors, has completed a business course and starts out on a new career next week.

Don Brown, one of the all-round athletes produced at Newmarket high in recent years and a member of the Newmarket baseball club, is now located with the Bank of Montreal in Aurora. St. Thomas was winner of the Canadian Legion golf tournament for district winners held at Pine Point, Toronto, on Saturday. Yours truly had the honor of presenting the prizes. Toronto chiropractic branch was runner-up. Orangeville represented the local Legion area and included on the team was Grant Jeffers who played hockey for Orangeville in the junior C finals against Aurora. Golf looms up as a big Legion sport from now on. Grass cutting at the Aurora town park cost the municipality $96 this year. The park generally was in the best condition for some years.
